776 A consequence of the latter is that the belief in good and evil spirits is also found among the Buginese and Makassarese. They are referred to by a few general designations that were adopted in former times from the Hindu-Javanese. Generally speaking, the tutelary spirits are called rewata in Makassarese, dewata in Buginese, the Hindu-Javanese dewata, the Sanskrit devâta. Another category is called sangiyang, the well-known Hindu-Javanese sanghjang. Among them Sangiyang Sarri, the same as Dewi Sri, deserves special mention. She is the spirit of the rice and is identified with it.

At the head of the spirits stands Batara Goeroe = Siva, often simply called Batara, who, as the name indicates, is likewise of Hindu-Javanese origin.

754 Among the evil spirits--popokang among the Makassarese, pappo among the Buginese--a primary role is played by those whose heads wander around at night while the trunk remains in bed. Here they are always women. If there is a woman at court who is thought to be a popokang, she is immediately made a slave and sentenced to pound kemiri continuously as a means of preventing her from going out at night and doing harm. Besides these, there are the pontijana, the spirit of women who died 766 in childbirth. If a woman dies in childbirth, an egg is put un-775 der each of her armpits, her hands are pressed tightly against 754 the body, and some needles are stuck inside her clothing.

We shall not discuss the other spirits, because they were already mentioned in the general sketch.

769 [636] The worship of the souls of the deceased deserves
775 special consideration since the sanctity of the crocodiles, which
● 825 is found in many places on southern Celebes, is connected with 782 it. It is believed that the souls reside in these animals after 824 death. In the eastern districts, in Boeloekoempa, eels are regarded in the same way. Like the crocodiles, at the sound of metal cymbals, they come on land and feast on the chicken-782 drumsticks that are given to them, especially by women who 776 yearn for the joys of motherhood. The most peculiar worship on
